Lettice are delighted to be able to work at the stunning Belgravia House this year. This majestic neo-classical terraced mansion situated in London's most prestigious address is a short walk from Harrods, Hyde Park, and Sloane Square.

In addition to this Belgravia House also boasts London's largest private garden - this garden really is an oasis amidst the hustle and bustle of central London and make the perfect venue for summer parties, wedding receptions and dinners.

Fabulous Parties in London's Leading Venues

One Marylebone

Lettice are delighted to be included on the list at one of London's most unique and interesting venues – No One Marylebone. This imposing gothic church is an extremely flexible space combining both neo classical architecture with clean white spaces.

The Soane Hall is the jewel in the crown of One Marylebone. Over 27 foot high and approximately 3,000 sq feet, the room is impressive in size as well as beauty. Although full of character with its mosaics and stained glass windows the space remains flexible allowing clients to either enjoy it in its natural state or alter it to fit any requirements of style and branding.

The First Floor Galleries comprise two large galleries which have recently been refurbished and are contemporary white spaces. The East & West Galleries are situated on either side of the building. Each Gallery can be hired individually or in conjunction with the ground floor. The South Gallery links the two galleries but can only be hired as an additional space to the East or West Gallery.

Running alongside the building is the secret garden which is the perfect addition to your event if you need that extra bit of space or is ideal as an event area by itself.

Whether you are planning a summer wedding under a stunning marquee or a balmy evening drinks party the Garden space at No One Marylebone can offer it all.

One Marylebone has also quickly emerged as London's premier wedding venue. Having just been granted a Civil Partnership License clients can hold their special day all under one roof.
